GERMAN LOSS BIG, SAYS HAIG

British Commander Produces Evidence of Terrific Cost

NEAR THIRD DEFENSE

Many Prisoners and Much Equipment Fall Into the Hands of British on West Front

London, July 18.—Despite heavy mist and rain which are interfering with the Somme offensive, British troops made substantial progress last night on a front of 1,000 yards in region of Ovillers, General Haig, reported this afternoon.

The Germans were driven from several strongly defended points and prisoners and six Maxims were captured.

London, July 18—The dispatch of Gen. Sir Douglas Haig shows that the steady pressure of the British arms is forcing an ever-deepening salient into the German lines and the commander in chief for the first time produces evidence in the shape of documents captured from the Germans, giving testimony as to the high price the Germans are paying in casualties.

The British have improved their position along almost the whole of their line of the front, capturing by assault 1,500 yards of German second line positions north of Bazentin-Le Petit wood, a strong German position at the Waterlot Farm, between Longueval and Contlemont, besides completing the capture of the whole of the village of Ovillers La Boiselle.

These gains bring the British almost to the crest of the Albert Plateau, where stretches the German third line.

The British official statement on the progress of the campaign in the western front reads:

"Rain and heavy mist again interfered with the operations. Nothing of importance occurred on the British front today.

"In the local actions which have taken place we have captured some more prisoners and the total number of wounded German prisoners taken by us since July 1, is 189 officers and 10,779 other ranks.

"The German losses in artillery are even greater than at first reported. The captured armament already contained by our troops now includes five 8 inch howitzers, three 6 inch howitzers, four 6 inch, 5 other heavy guns, 37 field guns, 30 trench howitzers, 66 machine guns and many thousand rounds of ammunition of all descriptions.

"The above is exclusive of many guns not yet brought in and numbers destroyed by our artillery bombardment and abandoned by the enemy."

British Front in France, July 18—The British yesterday captured a German tranch in the neighborhood of Pozieres.

The capture of the trench strengthens the new British line in this vicinity.

In an enormous cellar at Bezantin le Petit the British found several hundred wounded Germans who had taken refuge there. It was tragic business for the British litter bearers bringing them back through the Germanshell fire, which was meant for the British reserves and gun positions. There were cases where a litter bearer was wounded and put on a stretcher emptied when a wounded German on it has been killed by the same shell. The British persisted until all who had not received a final wound in transit were safe in the rear.

The regular meeting of the Reliance Engine Company will be held tonight. Business of importance will be transacted.

THE SHARK MENACE

Thousands Trail Life Boats Containing Shipwrecked Men

Philadelphia, July 18—Fourteen survivors of the wrecked coal steamer Ramos, who saw their captain and ten members of the crew lost in a sea alive with sharks, after their ship was battered to pieces in a hurricane fifty miles off the Bahama Islands, reached this city yesterday on the United Fruit Company's steamship Jose.

The men had been in lifeboats twenty hours without food or water, when they were picked up forty miles from the scene of the disaster. The Jose found the men stark naked in their boats. Thousands of sharks trailed the battered lifeboats, and the men were compelled to use the oars to keep the sharks off. The sharks got one member of the crew.

According to survivors, they saw the steward of the ship snatched under by a shark when he fell into the water when the lifeboats were being put over in a terrific sea.

Tampa, Fla., July 18—Because immense schools of sharks made fishing impossible, the schooner W. D. Cash of the Tampa fishing fleet, has returned to port.

The sharks take fish that are hooked before they can be brought into the boat.

PLEA FOR SIR ROGER IS VAIN.

Senator Martine's Effort Fails to Induce Action by the Senate.

Senator Martine made a vain effort to get action in the Senate yesterday on his resolution which would ask the President to seek a stay of execution of Sir Roger Casement's death sentence. Objection by Senator Stone prevented consideration of a motion to take the resolution out of the hands of the foreign relations committee, which has refused to report it, and of a substitute resolution requesting the President to have the American Ambassador at London unofficially urge a stay of the Casement sentence.

"I ask in God's name," ejaculated the senator, "have not Great Britain and the world had enough of bloodletting? Must more of human gore be shed to satisfy this Moloch of war?"

Referring to the days of the civil war Senator Martine cited the attitude of the British government and people when Jefferson Davis, President of the Confederacy, was captured and the demand was made in the North that the "traitor" and "conspirator" should be hanged.

"Almost every great newspaper and periodical in England," said Mr. Martine, "inveighed against such a course, insisting that it would be to turn back the wheels of civilization and human progress. Their pleading had the effect of arousing public sentiment to a sense of justice and humanity and the life of Jefferson Davis was spared."

HIDDEN TO AVOID WITCH

Green Castle (Pa.) Parents Kept Daughter Locked Up For Three Months.

Green Castle, Pa., July 18—Neighbors of a family named Keller, who moved to this city from the country, near the mountains some months ago, had observed that a daughter, aged 21, had been missing since Easter, Inquiries met wit hevasive answers and there soon was rfe the feeling that something was wrong.

The rumors sread, the stories became magnified and Saturday a constable was called and sent to the house. He demanded that the daughter, if locked in an upstairs room, as the stories had it, must be released at once. After demurring a bit, the parents unlocked a door and the young woman was set free.

She had been penned in the one room since the day after Good Friday Her parents said they locked her up because she was being bewitched by a hex doctor.

TEUTON LINE AGAIN BROKEN

Russians Force Von Linsingen Over Lipa, South of Lutsk

TAKE 13,000 CAPTIVES

Von Hindenburg, in North, Also Driven Back By Muscovites, Losing Some Trenches

London, July 18—The news from the eastern front shares in interest with the developments along the battle lines in France. The Russian commander, General Kuropatkin, has launched an offensive against Field Marshal Von Hindenburg on the Dvina river and Genu. Von Linsingen troops southwest of Lutsk have been compelled to retire behind the Lipa river, while in the course of Sunday's fighting in Volhynia the Russians captured an additional 13,000 prisoners and 30 guns.

Gen. Von Linsingen's retirement, according to the Petrograd military critics, represents a great Russian tactical success. It was preceded by heavy fighting, in which the Russians smashed the Teuton front on a width of a mile and penetrated several miles into their positions.

Petrograd, July 18—The Russians are continuing their successful advance in the region of the Lower Lipa the War Office announced today.

The number of prisoners taken by the Russians in Volhynia yesterday was nearly 13,000.

Berlin, July 18—A withdrawal of German troops under General von Linsingen southwest of Lubek to a point behind the River Lipa is officially announced by the War Office.

ORDERED TO REPORT

Engineers of Deutschland Ordered Back to Vessel

Unexpected orders for the engineering force of the German submarine Deutschland to report at once were received in Washington last night and gave rise to the belief that the submersible will depart shortly on her return voyage.

The sailors were enjoying a day of Capital sight-seeing and were scheduled to wind up their entertainment with a reception at the German Sangerbeund, when the orders were received to return at once. They immediately boarded autos for Baltimore.

Gus Buckholz, who was host of the party on the tour of the capital, yesterday said that he knew nothing about the cause for the sudden departure.

It is believed that the Deutschland will slip quietly out of her landing and submerge before she reaches the high seas in order to avoid enemy ships that are said to be waiting her departure just outside the three-mile limit.

ALEXANDRIANS IN RAIN

Torrential Downpour at Brownsville Render Camping Conditions Uncomfortable

Another letter has been received in this city from one of the members of company G, Alexandria Light Infantry. The command is still at Brownsville, Texas. Nothing outside the ordinary has occurred, so far, and all the Alexandrians are well. The writer says rain has fallen recently in torrents in Brownsville and vicinity, hence the camp is not in a desirable condition.

Enclosed in the letter referred to were pictures of houses in Metamoros, which were interesting to the Virginians, they never having seen such human abodes before. Among the pictures were also scenes in Mercedes, where tropical vegetation was studied with interest by the Alexandrians. The palms and cactus plants in the public park, were especial studies for the boys.

The Alexandria soldiers have been paid off up to date.

LOOK OUT FOR BOMBS

Deutschland, On Eve of Departure, Placed Under Heavy Guard

Baltimore, Md. July 18.—Fear of spies and bombs seemed to be strongly upon the crew and managers of the German super-submarine Deutschland. The vigilance of the past week has increased. Even police officials who had been permitted free entrance to her pier were barred, a special watchman headed off messengers and mail-carriers all night the powerful searchlight on the tug Timmins played nervously over the waters to pick up launches, and to search the shore for unwelcome watchers. "Drive them away quick" was the shout from the Timmins to the police on shore, when the searchlight revealed newspaper "spies." "For heaven's sake don't let them stay there." A special delivery messenger arrived at the Eastern Forwarding dock with a small package, presumably a gift from an admirer to Capt. Koenig, 'You can't come in here," said the German guard abruptly. "I won't take that package." The messenger was surprised. "Will you write that down or I'll get in trouble." he replied. And the guard wrote it unmistakably, with the added information that there is no use in trying to deliver any packages at the dock. The inference from this generally is that the Deutschland folk fear an attempt to wreck the ship.

Dressed up in fresh green paint and decorated with traces of white at bow and stern, to resemble the ocean waves, the Deutschland still lies at the pier.

CASEMENT TO DIE

Court Dismisses Appeal of Irish Rebel After Hearing Counsel's Argument.

London, July 18.—Roger Casement's appeal on the charge of high treason, for which he was sentenced to death, was today dismissed.

The court of criminal appeal announced its decision after listening to arguments by Alexander Sullivan, Casement's counsel, who contended that the instructions to the jury in Casement trials were inaccurate, and that the actions complained of in the indictment did not constitute a statutory offense.

Unless the Crown commutes the death sentence, Casement will die on the gallows.

The justices dismissed the appeal with out hearing counsel for the Crown.

TWENTY LIVES LOST IN FLOOD

Library of Congress

Damage Estimate at From $10,000,000 to $15,000,000

RAILROADS HARD HIT

Scores of Bridges Carried Away, Tracks Washed Out and Telegraph Lines Demolished

Raleigh, N. C, July 18.—Twenty persons are known to have perished in the storm which swept North Carolina, according to delayed dispatches reaching here this afternoon.

Raleigh, N. C., July 18—Flood waters which swept parts of North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia, Tennessee and West Virginia, taking a toll of at least 11 lives, rendering hundreds of persons homeless and doing property damage variously estimated at from $10,000,000 to $15,000,000 are receding.

The worst conditions obtained in western North Carolina where the flood was described as the most disastrous in the history of that section

Beween Asheville and Salisbury railroad bridges were washed out on Catawaba river and further south along the same river railroad and highway bridges were carried away and tracks were placed under water. Sawmills and other property as well as livestock suffered throughout this section.

Similar conditions obtained on the Yadkin river around Lexington, N. C., and dead animals, wreckage from mills, cotton, tobacco, oil and other debris floated down the raging stream

In the Piedmont section of South Carolina crops suffered great damage, highway bridges were washed away and railroad service was badly interrupted. The Southern Power Company's plant near Spartansburg was flooded, tying up the interurban line between Spartansburg and Greenwood and Gastonia and Charlotte.

Asheville, N. C., July 18—The death list from the flood that overwhelmed this section of North Carolina Sunday was increased to eight. Reports from Madison county said two lives were lost and that 53 houses were demolished in Marshall. The water was receding yesterday and no more fears are entertained for the breaking of the dam at Lake Toxaway.

The body of Miss Charlotte Walker a nurse was found today at Biltmore. Miss Mabel Foster, another nurse, and Miss Louse Walker, also lost their lives at Biltmore. These, with the death of Lonnie Trexter, a white laborer, and Luther Frazier, a negro, brings the list to eight.

Seventy five families, mostly cottonmill workers, residing in the lower sections of Asheville lost their homes and are being cared for by a citizens' relief committee.

Asheville still is without gas or electric power, and the price of gasoline had gone to $1 a gallon. City officials confiscated the entire supply. No trains left yesterday and none arrived.

Miss Nelle Lipe and Mrs. Leo Mulholland, reported drowned when the home of their father, J. C. Lipe, at Biltmore, was washed away, were found tied in the top of a tree, according to reports received here. No reports of further loss of life have been received.

The Swannanoa and French Broad rivers are falling rapidly.

Conservative estimates of flood damage place the figures at $10,000,000 in Asheville and an additional $1,500,000 in Buncombe county.

Twelve hundred persons are without employment and it will be days before their employers can open the factories and mills along the French Broad river front.

Salisbury, N. C., July 18—Reports from Statesville said three children were drowned in Alexander county when a framhouse was undermined and swept away by the Catawba river.

Columbia, S. C., July 18—Rivers throughout South Carolina continue to overflow their banks, causing the loss of millions of dollars in property. Railroads are the principal sufferers miles of track being inundated and trestles and bridges wrecked.

The situation in Columbia is the most critical since the memorable flood of 1908.

Knoxville, Tenn., July 18—A million acres of corn and peanuts in the Tennessee River Valley, between Chattanooga and Paducah, Ky., are under water from 4 to 15 feet as a result of the swollen condition of the Tennessee river in that section. The loss is estimated at $1,000,000. Many persons are homeless.

Report from Dandridge about 40 miles the river, indicate that thousands of acres of river farms were inundated and that crop damage was heavy.

Ronanoke, Va., July 18—Swollen by heavy rains in Southwest Virginia and Western North Carolina, New river, which early Sunday morning reached the highest stage that it has known since 1878, has damaged houses, bridges and railway tracks along the Galax branch of the Norfolk and Western Railway and along the main line of both Norfolk and Western and Virginia Railways.

Many buildings were swept away, several large houses at Radford being completely destroyed.

POSTMASTERS GIVEN INCREASE

Cities and Towns of State, With Few Exceptions, show Larger Volume of Postal Business

Under the annual readjustment of postmasters salaries made on the first of each fiscal year, July 1, Virginia postmasters fared very well this year, with fifty-nine increases and only eight decreases. These salaries are based on the net receipts of the offices of the year. Most of the changes amount to $100, but there are several changes of $200 and $300 each. The greatest salary change in the State is at North Emporia, where the salary is reduced from $2,200 to $1,800. This also relegates the office from second to third class. Most of this decrease is understood to be owing to the dropping off of the liquor dispensary business there, which had been very thriving in past years.

Among the fifty-nine Virginia postoffices to get increases, together with their salaries for the fiscal year, ending June 30, and their salaries for the next fiscal year, commencing July 1, 1916, are the following:

Office	Last Year	This Year
Berryville	$1,700	1,800

GERMANS RETREAT NEARLY TEN MILES

Kaledin's Left Wing Makes Swift Advance in Volhynia

TAKE MORE CAPTIVES

Heavy Guns and Large Supplies of War Material Fall Into the Hands of Czar's Troops

Petrograd, July 18. — The Germans have retreated nearly ten miles in Volhynia under the swift advance of General Kaledin's left wing.

In their hastly retirement, several thousand more prisoners, a number of heavy guns, and large supplies of war materials fell into the hands of the Russians.

The retreat was made necessary when several Russian regiments broke through the German front and threatened to surround a part of General von Linsingen's army.

The Russians have advanced their lines to the north banks of the river Lipa, and are strengthening their new positions on the entire front.

The advance widens the Russian salient extending into the Austro-German front southeast of Kovel, thus removing the danger of crushing enemy attacks on both sides of the Russian wedge.

All along the eastern front, the Czar's armies have suddenly resumed the initiative.

The Russian left wing in southern Bukowina is again in motion against the re-enforced Austrian army.

Infantry combats are becoming more frequent in Galicia, and both artillery and infantry activity are reported on General Kuropatkin's front in the Dvinsk-Riga region on the north.

The Russia commanders on the Austro-German front, however, are compelled to share public interest with the Grand Duke Nicholas, whose new offensive in the Caucasus continues to make progess.

SLAUGHTER OF ARMENIANS

Special Correspondent of Paris Journal Continues Investigation Into Massacres.

Paris, July 18—The Journal continues its inquiry into the Armenian massacres, and its special correspondent at Erzerum writes:

The mere mention of the figures at times exceeds in tragic eloquence the most pathetic recitals. At the beginning of the year 1915 there were in Turkey 2,500,000 Armenians. Today there remain but 500,000.

"Two million human beings, four-fifths of a nation exterminated—such is the work of the Young Turk government, a government which, when it came into power, was acclaimed by the whole of civilized Eurpe as a humanitarian and a progressive one.

"The Central Armenian Bureau at Tiflis ascertains that the number of Armenians who have escaped massacre and been deported to Mesopotamia is only in round figures 100,000, and this number is daily on the wane, as they die in large numbers owing to disease, privation and bad treatment

"It is believed that 100,000 Armenians are still in Cicilia, and there are about 150,000 others in the western countries of Asia Minor. The number of those still at Constantinople and Smyrna is estimated at 180,000.

"These figures give a total of 530,000 survivors, which is no doubt the maximum. To this number should be added 200,000 refugees, who succeeded in crossing the Russian frontier and are in the Caucasus.

"All the other Armenians perished".

FATAL SHOCK ON A POLE

Lineman Meets Death as He is About To Descend

Trenton, July 18—Lawrence Swain, 23 years old, a lineman in the employ of the Public Service Corporation, was shocked to death at the top of a telegraph pole last night when he came in contact with a live wire while making repairs made necessary by a violent thunderstorm during the afternoon.

Swain mounted the pole to make an inspection of the damaged wires. He called down to George Asbury, who was helping him, that they could not be repaired yesterday evening, and was about to descend when he uttered a cry and fell, his body catching on a crossbar a few feet below. He was taken down with the assistance of apparatus from the fire department, but life was extinct.

THE KINGDOM OF CHRIST

Evangelist Says the Rule of Heaven Will Follow the Present Order of Things

Evangelist Gibson's theme at the gospel tent meeting last night was "The Kingdom of Christ," which he said, will be the next universal kingdom that will rule in this world.

The speaker said that the first great universal kingdom which ruled the world was the Babylonian, known as the "Lion Kingdom," as the Prophet Daniel says in his book.

The kingdom which conquered this great kingdom was that of the Medes and Persians, but because of their great sin and rebellion against heaven they met their downfall when Alexander with his great army at the river Granicus plunged through and conquered the kingdom of Cyrus and Darius. Rome, in her turn, conquered Grecia. The evengelist said that the Bible shows that the next kingdom to be set up in this world will be the Kingdom of Christ. It matters not, he said, how much the nations of this world go to war and fight one another in order to see which is to be the greatest, the next kingdom will be Christ's. The people who enter that kingdom will be those who have been victorious over temptation and sin through Him who loved us and gave himself for us, Jesus Christ our Saviour.

The subject tonight will be "The Great Struggle Between Capital and Labor."

MOONLIGHT EXCURSION

Red Men and Friends Enjoy Trip Down Potomac—Ladies Aid Gives Outing Today.

Seminole Tribe of Red Men gave their annual moonlight excursion on the Potomac last night and large throngs of people were the guests of the Red Men on the 40-mile trip down the river. Today an enjoyable excursion is being given to Colonial Beach by the Ladies' Aid Society of the Second Presbyterian Church, which gives an outing to that popular resort every year at this time. Large crowds boarded the steamer this morning and will return tonight, the day being spent in the various pleasure features at the Beach.

Tomorrow Alexandria Council, No. 5, Order of Fraternal Americans, gives an outing to the Beach, and Alexandria Lodge, No. 758, Benevolent and Protective Order of Els, have made arrangements to go to the riverside resort the third day of August.

Wednesday, July 26, Alva Aerie, No. 871, will give an excursion to Marshall Hall.

The excursion steamers are being patronized by huge crowds during the hot season, and, even when no local organization is giving an excursion, hundreds of Alexandrians board the various steamers for moonlight trips, excursions to Marshall Hall, and week-ends or day outings at Colonial Beach.

TURNING OF THE TIDE.

That the offensive has passed from the German to the allies' hands is patent to all observers. The Kaiser himself has been compelled to witness the retreat of the Teutons before the oncoming British.

This is tantalizing to the heroic Germans, who supposed they are invincible. During more than half a century victory has followed German arms. It was so in the war with Denmark, and later with Austria and with France in 1870. The current was still running Germany's way two years ago, and only began to slacken recently. But that the tide has now completely turned is a fact that cannot be gainsaid nor resisted.

A dispatch from Rotterdam is significant. It says it is well within the truth to describe the present feeling in Germany as one of deepest gloom.

A few days ago there was hardly a man in Berlin who believed that a serious military effort was to be made by England. The present attitude of the German people is as if a new enemy had entered the field against them.

Their most trusted commentators talked for months about England's "paper army." Events have now shown the German public that the paper army has materialzed into a great host of trained soldiers who are driving their own best troops from positions they believed impregnable.

The result is that there is manifestation of public dismay that is giving the government the greatest concern. In Berlin they are talking for the first time of the possibility of their iron wall in the west being broken. The vast majority of the German people long ago gave up any hope of conquest and any desire for anything further than a speedy peace.

They believed in the termination of the war this year on the ground that the allies would exert their maximum strength in an attempt to break their lines; that the attempt would fail, and that they would be prepared to negotiate a compromise peace.

The possibility of the allies' efforts succeeding had never been contemplated until last week, when the British captured the second-line positions.

The German general staff has issued an appeal to the people of Germany for confidence in the conduct of the war.

"Never has the world experienced anything so stupendous as the present battles," says the appeal. "Never has an army braved what ours has braved."

IS THE CLOUD ABOUT TO BREAK?

There are multiplying signs that the industrial world is beginning to believe in the coming of peace. From all over the globe the steel trade is receiving orders for ship plates for merchant vessels, while it is widely reported that no war-material orders are being given to run after January 1 next. The New York Evening Post suggests that this may be in part due to the increased prduction of British and Russian factories; none the less, it is possible to deduce some belief in a lightening of Europe's horizon. So far as our own war order companies are concerned, it was announced last week that the du Pont powder mills had cut off one shift of men, and the Westinghouse Air Brake Company is dismantling some of the buildings it used for making of munitions. In addition, there are known to be numerous cases where plans are already under way to convert mushroom war order plants into factories for the production of tine plate, dyestuffs, and other material needed in the peaceful arts. All of this, be it noted, has disturbed Wall Street not at all, so that those prophets who have looked for a violent convulsion at the close of the war may well take courage. Indeed, the peaceful character of the orders now pouring in to the steel trade give every ground for the belief that the United States will be called upon to furnish a very large share of the material needed for the reconstruction of Europe.

INCORRIGIBILITY AMONG THE YOUNG

At various recent conferences of charity and correction workers—both state and national—speakers of authority have laid stress upon the need of some service that young men might render to the nation. In New York the other day Presiding Justice Franklin Chase Hoyt referred the members of the state conference to the increase in lawlessness among the young men of today. "To me," he said, "it resembles a lack of self-discipline that must lead in the end to a disrespect for all authority. The gangster is the extreme type, but the symptons can be observed in many other classes. Never before has the offender been treated so well." The Indianapolis News in commenting upon the above says it may be as others in Justice Hoyt's position have intimated, that ill advised lenity is in large part responsible for the "disrespect for all authority." That, however, most of us are loath to believe. We have a strong and abiding faith in the Justice of "another chance." And courts, of course, would prefer to err on the side of mercy rather than to deprive the young offender of an opportunity to reform and thus become a good and useful citizen. Still, as another speaker remarked on the same occasion, "some young men are old offenders, even though they previously have been lucky enough to escape conviction." And, he added to let them go free is to put a premium on offenses.

The most annoying cases that appear upon the dockets of Police Courts are those in which young and thoughtless people are the defendants. The authorities of Alexandria realize this as much as those in other sections of the country. Under the present laws of Virginia, youths under eighteen years of age are virtually immune from responsibilities, save in cases of felony. The law requires the justice to give juveniles private trials and to resort to every expedient to save the boy. Of course in cases of chronic incorrigibility the offenders can be sent to a reform school. But this course is drastic and, if possible, is generally avoided. Under such conditions, parents should do their part, and when their offspring are haled into court it should not be the fault of those who should set them a proper example and do everything in their power to teach their offspring respect for authority.

ORPET'S TRIAL AND ITS LESSON

That the trial of the young college student, Orpet, whose spectacular case has laboriously occupied the attention of an Illinois court and the public generally for the last two months, would result in a disagreement or acquittal no one who had followed the testimony could doubt. After comparatively brief deliberation, the jury brought in a verdict of not guilty and the alleged slayer of Marian Lambert, a high school girl, Orpet's former sweetheart, walks out a free man. But not the same man that went in under sheriff's escort. The searing process of such a trial cannot fail to leave its impress. He will have learned a terrible lesson and be an altogether changed person hereafter or become wretch too contemptible for human association. There can be no midway course. As the Richmond Journal suggests, if there is a spark of manliness left in the follow, it should kindle a flame never to wane so long as life lasts. If it is not there, he is hopeless. For, although he is adjudged innocent of the capital crime, he is a self-confessed moral murderer. He took advantage of a trusting girl, betrayed her and then his love—no, not that, his fancy—growing cold, he brutally left her to worry herself into self-destruction. The public has little sympathy for the acquitted prisoner, although the verdict is probably just in view of the evidence. The prosecuting attorney overdid the state's zeal in his vindictive pursuit of the accused, and that he failed to sustain the charge is, in a measure, due to this display of venom. The case hung on the cyanide of potassium question of who administered it to the girl. The preponderance of evidence and deductive reasoning pointed to self-administration and the jury decided. That a trial of this nature should consume sixty days, demand hundreds of witnesses and cost the county thouands of dollars more than was necessary may be charged to the faulty system of criminal practice in this country. There is too great freedom allowed opposing lawyers, too much attention paid to trivialities, too many objections interposed, resulting in endless delays, and too many authorities consulted and argued for precedents. Finally, the trial judge is loth to make a ruling lest it be accounted error in the upper court and so reflect upon his judicial standing. Lastly, there should be so court of appeal on technical errors.

CHRISTIAN HARMONY

The Richmond Virginian in referring to the spirit manifest in the churches of that city, says:

The beautiful spirit of brotherly love and co-operation which was manifested by our Richmond churches during the splendid simultaneous evangelistic services, is being continued. Quite a number of the congregations are now meeting together every Sunday night in union services, and "pulpit exchanges" are of very common occurrence

This is most certainly as it should be. The age of religious controversy is past. Christian unity is being preached and practiced as never before, and we have good reason to believe that the churches and church members will become even closer united in the "bonds of Christian love" as the years come and go.

Differences of opinion and doctrine will no doubt continue, but these differences should not and cannot prevent a manifestation of the real Christian spirit.

Readers of the New Testament, of course, know that divisions existed in the church in the days of Paul, who alludes to them in his epistles. There were men in his day who claimed to be Paul, Caphas and others, and who separated themselves. It has ever been so, until in our day there are over one hundred different denominations of Christians. It is high time for an understandig to be reached, and the spirit said to be manifest in Richmond might be studied with profit by all.

The Virginian tells us that there is a concerted movement upon the part of all who call upon the name of Jesus Christ to work in union. A movement similar to that in Richmond is now being inaugurated in Alexandria. Virtually all the Protestant Churches are uniting to bring about o revival of religion early in the fall, and the churches have appointed committees with that end in view. Union services will be held under a huge tent, and it is planned to make a house to house canvass for the purpose of interesting every person in the community in the commendable work. The hands of those engaged in this propaganda should be upheld.

NEWS OF THE DAY

The repulse of a heavy attack by the Austrians in the upper Posina Valley in the Trentino as a result of an Italian counter-attack is announced by the War Office in Rome.

A Stockholm correspondent reports the sinking by a Russian submarine of the German steamship Syria. Her crew and Swedish pilots were rescued. The Syria, 3,607 tons gross, was owned in Hamburg.

An outbreak of crime and instanity in the Bristol bay settlements of Alaska has filled all jails at Seward necessitating a visit from the coast guard cutter McCulloch to take out out a number of prisoners.

Marion L. Swords, sheriff of St. Landry parish, La., for 16 years, was shot and killed and two negroes assisting him were perhaps badly wounded yesterday in a fight with Delaire Carriere, alleged fugitive from justice. Carriere escaped.

Frank Scott and wife, of Kensett, Ark., have been married ten years. Nineteen boys have been born to them, all living with the exception of six, who died at birth. Of the thirteen living there are three sets of triplets and two sets of twins.

Neutral travelers from Syria state that Germany has organized eight new divisions of Turkish soldiers under German officers. These eight divisions, it was declared, by the tourists, are to be sent soon to one of the European fronts.

"The present generaton is the last generation that will live on the earth before Christ comes the second time" So declared Evangelist Booth Sunday night at the tent pavilion, Monument and Potomac streets Baltimore,

Dr. D. H. Monahan, member of the Bridgeport, Conn., Board of Health, while driving his automobile last night, struck and killed Mrs. Catherine Duine, 85 years of age as she was crossing a street near her home. He was arrested and held in bonds of $2,000 charged with reckless driving.

"Pancho" Villa, is declared by United States military authorities to be rapidly and effectively sweeping all evidences of Carranza control from north central Mexico. The Carranza commanders have become demoralized and are experiencing difficulty keeping any of the units of the army together.

Leading German newspapers are now rallying to the support of Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg, who has been under attack by the advocates of unrestricted submarining. They deny that the chancellors peace discussions have weakened the position of Germany, and reassert their confidence in the defeat of the present allied offensive.

Another contingent of Russian soldiers landed at Brest yesterday to reenforce the allie's on the western front. German and Russian troops are at grips in France, the first time since soldiers of the czar were landed on French soil. The official communique issued by the war office yesterday stated that the Germans delivered a strong attack against the trench sections held by the Russians in the Champagne district Sunday night, but were repulsed. A brilliant counter attack was delivered by the Russian soldiers.

Playing "movies" with his father's pistol yesterday afternoon, Raymond C. Brown, 8 years old, shot and killed his younger brother, William H. G. Brown, at his home in Baltimore. His mother found him on the floor with his head in a pool of blood. It was at first though that he had shot himself, but when the coroner arrived Raymond admitted he had shot his brother. He told how he had climbed to the top of the dresser to get a piece of cord for his kite and had found the revolver. He put it in his pocket and afterward suggested to his brother that they play "Wild West" as they had seen it done in the "movies." He did not know the revolver was loaded, so he placed it against his brother's head and pulled the trigger. When he saw what he had done he ran upstairs and hid.

"MAXWELL"
THE BIG MOTOR CAR VALUE OF THE 1917 Season
Increased Production--Economical Merchandising and Standardized Manufacturing Permit Remarkably Low Price.

The prices of Maxwell Cars are again reduced—$595 for the Touring Car and $580 for the Roadster are the new prices—effective July 1st, 1916. Only the price is changed—not the car.

We emphasize this point because you might well suppose that a lowered price would necessitate some changes in the Maxwellg car—somethin taken from its complete equipment—or some lowering of Maxwell standards of quality.
